DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I in the reply filed on 11-28-05 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3, 4, 6-8, 14, 16, 18, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nakahara et al (4,714,253). Claim 1, Nakahara discloses a golf ball comprising an inner core, an outer core, and cover. The outer core has a hardness from 70 to 83 Shore C and a specific gravity greater than the inner core (abstract). The hardness of the inner core is less than the hardness of the outer core. Claim 4, the inner core has a specific gravity of from 1.030 to 1.25. Claims 7 and 8, the inner and outer cores are made from 100 parts polybutadiene, 36 parts zinc acrylate, 1.0 parts peroxide and a sufficient amount of filler to provide the specified specific gravity (table 1, col. 2). Claim 14, Nakahara discloses a golf ball comprising an inner core, an outer core, and cover. The outer core has a hardness from 70 to 83 Shore C and a specific gravity greater from 1.3 to 2.5 (abstract). The hardness of the inner core is less than the hardness of the outer core and the inner core has a specific gravity less than the outer core. Claims 18 and 19, the inner and outer cores are made from 100 parts polybutadiene, 36 parts zinc acrylate, 1.0 parts peroxide and a sufficient amount of filler to provide the specified specific gravity (table 1, col. 2). Since the materials and quantities for the core layers are the same as applicant's the COR and compression values will also be the same. One of ordinary skill in the art would vary the ranges of the properties to obtain the desired performance.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-27 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,547,677.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the present invention and the '677 patent claim golf balls comprising a core, an outer core, and cover layer with identical properties.
